

Spaceships' Arrival

By Donna Bishop

I have had personal communication from the chief pilot of a fleet of five thousand spaceships currently circling our earth. They have released the following time schedule of their landing throughout the world in 2016.

March 21, 2016: They will interrupt communications of all United Nations Delegates and staff to prepare the world for the purpose of their visit. Their mission is to offer their services to clean our earth of all toxic materials and waste. They have developed the technology to purify our waters, filter our polluted atmosphere, and clear our landfills. They will request permission for one spaceship to land on earth at a time and place designated by the UN. This meeting will be for the purpose of strategic planning of the mission.

April-May 2016: The chief pilot will use every electronic device on earth to communicate directly to all individuals this good will mission of his fleet and the scheduled cleanups. The effort is expected to take the balance of 2016. The crews from outer space will also be training earthlings in the technology of taking better care of our beautiful planet.

This fleet of spaceships is sent by a coalition of planets in distant galaxies that have looked for a way to open communication with us without causing fear.

2016 promises to be another great year as we reach out to neighbors close by and those far, far away.
